

Daily Bulletin

Thursday, March 11, 2010

- Students: Prom Tickets will be going on sale April 6th! As a courteous reminder, the library and textbook room will be sending notices to 11th and 12th grade students regarding any debts they may have. Please remember that both you and a guest must be cleared of debts. You will need your ID and your guest's ID along with a Prom Agreement signed by a parent, regardless if you are 18, before purchasing tickets. Make sure to check with the student store for any debts you may have. Please do not wait until the last minute.
- Scholarship Deadline Reminder: Seniors, this is a reminder that the Burbank Magnolia Park Optimist Club "Meet the Challenge" Scholarship is due to Mrs. Chambers, Thursday, March 11th.
- Pi Day: Pi Day (March 14th) is this Sunday, and Mr. Kukan will be celebrating with his annual Pi Contest this Friday at lunch. Come to room 2209 at lunch on Friday to show off your pi memorization skills for the chance to win a prize.
- Coming soon: The Drama Department proudly presents their Spring Mainstage Play "The Miracle Worker." If you haven't come to see a play yet this year, what are you waiting for? "The Miracle Worker" opens the week after Spring Break, so make plans now to come and support JBHS Drama! Buy tickets from any student or Mr. Myers in room 6101.
- Library Books Due: Many library books are due on Monday, March 22, the first day back from Spring Break. Because this will be difficult to remember, it's recommended that you renew or return them by this Friday. If you renew, the due date will be extended and you won't have to remember or risk having late fees!
- CAST Club: If you're planning on attending the field trip to El Pueblo de Los Angeles on Friday March 12 there is a mandatory meeting at lunch today in Ms. Freeman's room 1211. You must attend or you cannot go on our trip!
- Pi Day Celebration: Remember to stop by Mr. Kukan's room 2209 on Friday at lunch to see who can recite the most digits of the magical irrational number Pi. The top 3 winners will receive prizes. Will anyone beat the school record of 384 digits?
- YMCA Counselor In Training Program: Applications are available in the Career Center for the YMCA Counselor In Training Program. If you are interested in developing leadership skills and learning to work with children, and need to complete your service learning hours stop by and pick up an application.
- Book Club: Will meet Friday, March 12th at lunch in room 2-314. Don't miss our last meeting before spring break!
