Grading Distribution:

45% Tests and Projects: Tests will be given at the end of each chapter. Students will be given at least three days of advanced notice.

25% Homework/Classwork/Participation:

Homework assignments will be assigned on a regular basis and collected daily at the beginning of the class period, NOT sometime during the class or later that day. When assignments are turned in you will either receive 4 pts (full credit), or 0 pts. (no credit). In order to receive full credit, ALL of the problems must be completed or attempted. If the assignment is incomplete (i.e. skipped problems) you will be given no credit. NO late work will be accepted. Homework assignments can be viewed daily at yourhomework.com.

Each student is expected to participate in all class activities, projects, and lessons. Students are required to take notes and complete in-class assignments. Each student is responsible for keeping a 3-ring binder notebook consisting of: notes, classwork/homework, and quizzes/tests.

15% Quizzes: Quizzes will be given on a regular basis; both announced and unannounced.

15% District Benchmarks and Final: Cumulative district exam will be given at the end of the semester.

Class time should be spent wisely. Once we are through with the day's lesson, you are to begin working quietly on your homework for the remainder of the class period. You are not allowed to talk or waste class time. You can only work on homework for this class, not any other class.

Make-Up Work:

If a student is absent, the prior assignment given is due on the first day back in class. Any assignments missed due to an absence must be made up within two days of your returning. In the event of a prolonged absence (3 or more days) it becomes your responsibility to talk with me and set up a new date for your assignments to be turned in for full credit.

3-Ring Binder Notebook:

- You must have 3 "sub-sections"
 - Notes
 - Classwork/Homework
 - Quizzes/Tests

 Notes will be randomly collected for points so be organized!
